Subject: Nachfrage zu Änderung von Produktspezifikationen - Kontrollbehörden

Dear Ms. [REDACTED],

We have duly received your question of 5 December 2024 (our ref.: Ares (2024)8692451) concerning information on competent authorities, delegated bodies or natural persons to which certain official control tasks have been delegated (control authorities).

In line with Article 10(4) of Regulation (EU) 2024/1143, in case of applications for registration, the names and contact data of the control authorities are not included in the publication by the Member State during the national stage of the registration procedure. This also applies to applications for amendment according to Article 24(6) of Regulation (EU) 2024/1143.

In the context of an application for registration or Union amendment, Member States have to send information on control authorities to the Commission as accompanying documentation (see the requirements in Article 13(1)(b) of Regulation (EU) 2024/1143).

However, in line with Article 40(1) of the same Regulation, it is the Member States that have to make public the control authorities and have to keep that information up to date. How this information is made public is up to each Member State. Information on control authorities does not have to be included in the product specification, but can be available in a separate document, which also could simplify the later update of the data.

Where information on the control authorities is still provided in the product specification, any changes or taking this information out of the product specification is subject to a Standard amendment procedure.

The present opinion is provided based on the facts as set out in your email message of 5 December 2024, and expresses the view of the Commission services and does not commit the European Commission. In the event of a dispute involving European Union law, it is for the Court of Justice of the European Union to provide a definitive interpretation of the applicable European Union law.

Yours sincerely,

U
